Features of Federalism

- There are two or more levels (tiers) of governments.
- Different tiers of government govern the same citizens, but each tier has its own jurisdiction.
- The jurisdiction of the respective levels or tiers of government are specified in the Constitution. authority and existence of each tier is Constitutionally guaranteed.
- The fundamental provisions of the Constitution cannot be changed unilaterally by one level of govt.
- Courts have the power to interpret the Constitution and the power of different level of government. It acts as an umpire if disputes arise between different levels of government.
- Sources of revenue for each level of government are clearly specified to ensure its financial autonomy.
- The federal system thus has dual objectives:
 - (i). To safeguard and promote unity of country
 - (ii). At the same time accommodate regional diversity

What makes India a federal Country? -I

→ Constitution declared India as a union of states. The word federation is not used, but the Indian union is based on the principles of federalism.

- Three tiers of government [Central, State and local]
- Each tier of government has its own jurisdiction, Specified in Constitution:

(i). Union list

- Includes Subjects of National importance.
- Such as: Defence, foreign affair, Banking, Currency, Communication etc.
- Union govt. alone make laws on them.

(ii). State list

- Contains Subjects of state and local imp.
- Such as: police, trade, Commerce, agriculture and irrigation.
- State govt. alone make laws on them.

(iii). Concurrent list

- Includes Subjects of Common interest of both the union and state govt.
- Such as: Education, forest, trade union, Marriage, adoption etc.
- Both union and state govt. Can make laws on these Subjects. In Case of Conflict, laws made by union govt. will prevail.

(iv). Residuary list: Contains those Subjects which do not fall in any of the list and came up after the Constitution was made. Such as: IT. [Central govt. Make laws on them].

What makes India a federal Country? -II

- India → Holding together federation → unequal powers among states [Special powers]
→ J & K has its own Constitution. [Special status].
- Union territories: These territories do not have the powers of state. Central government has special powers in running these areas.
- Power sharing arrangement is the basis structure of the Constitution. This arrangement cannot be changed easily. Any change to it has to be passed by both the houses of parliament with at least two-third Majority. Then it has to be ratified by the legislatures of at least half of the states.
- Judiciary takes decision in case of dispute.

How is Federalism practised : Linguistic States

• Federalism × Success of federalism both are different things.

It depends on the nature of democratic politics.

※ Linguistic States.

- Evolution of states over a period of time [1947 to 2019]
- Creation of states on the basis of language is Linguistic States.
- Leaders feared → It would lead to disintegration 😞^{??} [Central govt. also resisted for some time]
- But experience has shown that linguistic states has forged unity and made administration easier.

How is Federalism practised - II

• Language policy

- We didn't have any national language.
- Hindi was identified as official language.
- Besides Hindi, 21 other languages were recognised as schedule languages.
- States too have their own official languages.
- Cautious use of spreading Hindi [Sri Lanka]
- Debate for Hindi v/s English
- promotion of Hindi still continues, promotion does not mean imposition of Hindi.

• Central-state relations

- Power sharing arrangement works on how the ruling parties and leaders follow these arrangements.
- One party dominance → !! Neglected federalism!!
- The party ruled at Center undermines state party.
- Regional party → Came in power [Coalition government].
- New culture of power sharing, check on the power of Central govt., autonomy of states increased.

Decentralisation in India

✱ When power is taken away from Central and State governments, it is called decentralisation.

• Need ☹??

→ local issues

Can be best settled
at the local level.

Best knowledge of local area and problems

!! Decentralisation was Not in effective terms!!

✱ Major Steps taken towards decentralisation in 1992 :

→ It was made Constitutionally mandatory to hold election regularly.

→ Seats are reserved for ST, SC and OBC.

→ At least one-third of all positions are reserved for women.

→ An independent State Election Commission has been Created in each state to Conduct panchayat and municipal elections.

→ State govt. are required to share some powers and revenue with local government bodies.
